Product Introduction

The KKSB Arduino UNO, Mega Case is the perfect solution for protecting your Arduino Mega or Arduino UNO board. This case offers protection, versatility, and style, making it a must-have for any Arduino enthusiast. The case also has space for Arduino Shield with necessary cutouts for connectors and cables. Made from steel, this Arduino steel enclosure is built to last. The steel construction ensures the case is rigid and provides excellent protection for your board. The black powder coat not only adds a stylish touch but also provides additional protection against scratches and impacts.
