Product Introduction

The KKSB Coral Dev Board case has been designed for protection and high compatibility with the Coral Dev Board's functionality. This Coral Dev Board aluminium case features cutouts for most Coral Dev Board's ports and connectors. The cover of this Coral Dev Board enclosure has a sufficient number of ventilation cutouts to support the Coral Dev Board's built-in fan to work with maximum performance to keep the processor cool. This Coral Dev case has two holes compatible with VESA 75. They can be used to attach the case to the back of a monitor or screwed into a wall.
